

QUESTION 47 OF 52: NOT ANSWERED

As used in line 56, “devise” most nearly means

A create.

The author notes that Tom Peacock and his team “were able to devise a mathematical model that describes the movement and formation of these waves.” In this context, the researchers devised, or created, a mathematical model.

B solve.

In this context “devise” does not mean to solve.

C imagine.

In this context “devise” does not mean to imagine.

D begin.

In this context “devise” does not mean to begin.
