

QUESTION 18 OF 44: NOT ANSWERED

Which choice most effectively combines the sentences at the underlined portion?

A furnished by their

It communicates an illogical relationship between the phrases that precede and follow the underlined portion.

B furnished, but their

It provides correct punctuation and the coordinating conjunction "but," which acknowledges the possible contrast between being "sparsely furnished" and displaying "just as true" period details.

C furnished: their

It communicates an illogical relationship between the phrases that precede and follow the underlined portion.

D furnished, whereas

It communicates an illogical relationship between the phrases that precede and follow the underlined portion.
