

QUESTION 2 OF 44: NOT ANSWERED

---

A

NO CHANGE

It misidentifies the relationship between the preceding sentence and the sentence of which it is a part.

---

B

Consequently,

It offers a transitional adverb, "Consequently," that communicates a cause-effect relationship between the funding reduction identified in the previous sentence and the staffing decrease described in this sentence.

---

C

Nevertheless,

It misidentifies the relationship between the preceding sentence and the sentence of which it is a part.

---

D

Previously,

It misidentifies the relationship between the preceding sentence and the sentence of which it is a part.

---