

QUESTION 29 OF 52: NOT ANSWERED

The main purpose of each passage is to

- A compare brain function in those who play games on the Internet and those who browse on it.

It discusses points made in the passages but not the main purpose of the passages.

- B report on the problem-solving skills of individuals with varying levels of Internet experience.

It discusses points made in the passages but not the main purpose of the passages.

- C take a position on increasing financial support for studies related to technology and intelligence.

Neither passage argues in favor of increasing financial support for certain studies.

- D make an argument about the effects of electronic media use on the brain.

The author of Passage 1 argues that online and other screen-based technologies affect people's abilities to think deeply. The author of Passage 2 argues that the effects of consuming electronic media are less drastic than media critics suggest.
